The history of the Philippines is believed to have begun with the arrival of the first humans using rafts or boats at least 67,000 years ago as the 2007 discovery of Callao Man suggested. Negrito groups first inhabited the isles. Groups of Austronesians later migrated to the islands. Scholars generally believe that these social groups eventually developed into various settlements or polities

Aside from the omission of the chartered cities, there are a few other changes between the draft ISO standard and the final version. In the draft standard, twelve regions are coded using Roman numerals I-XII, and three regions are just identified by name. In the final standard, each region has a two-digit numeric code, as shown in the table above.
